OVERVIEW

The Sciences Po French Language Summer Programme is an intensive programme aimed at international students, who want to improve their French skills, enhance their ability on Social Sciences methodology and issues, while discovering the renowned capital city of France.

The 2013 Paris summer school offers 2 exceptional programmes:

- A French intensive Programme for beginners: 74 hours of French, with a strong emphasis on individual tutorials, learning in small classes and capacity to express oneself through tutorials for oral and written expression (one or two students per group).
- A French applied to Social sciences Programme for intermediate and advanced students: a total of 84 hours combining intensive classes in French language, innovative theatre workshops with cutting-edge classes on French and European cultural history and political institutions. This programme will also give students a key to familiarize themselves with the French Higher Education tools: writing an essay, how to construct an oral presentation...

For a truly comprehensive experience, each programme will also offer social events and visits in key Paris cultural monuments and museums such as Le Louvre, Eiffel Tower, and others!
